

CSG Review.
michelle phillips to: csg.review

25/04/2013 08:44 PM

History:

This message has been replied to and forwarded .

Dear Chief Scientist,

I am concerned about the effects of CSG mining on water quality and ground water levels .
The current disposal of used fracking water needs to be rethought , companies should be responsible for treatment of water to return it to its former state so it can be used for agriculture and the likes. Base line studies are a must on land and water systems where mining will commence.

Kind regards.

Michelle.